Dear Jeff,

No words could truly express how delighted we are with the transformation of our home created by you and your talented, professional staff. Never having contracted any home improvements before, we were apprehensive, but were always put at ease by your confident and attentive responses. Our concerns were very important to us and we came to trust you totally.

Not only are we happy with the visual changes, we are extremely satisfied with their construction. The roof and vinyl siding are absolutely beautiful and our sunroom is more than we had envisioned. Our obscure plans for this room became a wonderful addition to our living area with your direction and productive ideas. It's lovely and it gives us great pride to step back and see that once boring exterior transformed into a most appealing, attractive home. As you say Jeff, none better!

Your professionalism and quality craftsmanship will be admired and enjoyed by our family for many years. We continue to receive many compliments about these dramatic changes to our home and we're more than happy to say they were created by your company, Jeffrey-Angelo Construction.

Sincerely,

Bob and Paula Jedzinak
