We have known Jeff Folino (Jeffrey-Angelo Construction) since the Fall of 1997. He came highly recommended to us by our architect, Paul Barlow.

Construction on our new home began in March of this year, and Mr. Folino has been at the site every day. His supervision is excellent, which we are directly able to assess, as we live next door to our home being constructed. Jeff does all work under construction. He personally framed the house, and is able to offer creative ideas, which we have found quite helpful.

The work site is immaculate. We have only words of praise for Jeff and any workers he supervises at our job. His craftsmanship is exquisite. In addition, his contractors working under him complement "the job Jeff does".

Our new home is already the showcase of our neighborhood. There is a steady stream of observers, who come by land and by sea to watch the project progress.

My husband and I are pleased to write this letter of recommendation for Jeffrey-Angelo Construction. We invite personal contact by phone, or in person to the site.

Sincerely,
Douglas and Pamela Barth
