Jeff,

We were recommended to you by our good family friend Waren, who also had a new home built by you at the Jersey Shore. He said we would be happy with your work, and he was telling the absolute truth. We were so impressed with the dedication, excellent workmanship, cleanliness, and attention that went into our new home, by you and your whole crew. Living up north, you kept us updated every single day with phone calls, text messages, and pictures.

I surely remember the one day a family friend stopped by to take a look because he is thinking about doing the same thing with his home. He asked one of your subcontractors what he thought about you. He replied, he is a royal pain in the ass, but absolutely the guy you want to build your new home. You stood on all your subcontractors to make sure everything was perfect.

You also stood by your word of trying to get us in for the start of the summer. We have our new home, built rock solid, and truly happy with the finish product. We will highly recommend Jeffery Angelo Construction to anyone thinking about remodeling or rebuilding their home.

Thank you once again!
